

Often, when we visit our GP, she/he needs to examine our blood count to find out exactly what our health problem is. Medical diagnostics follows well-defined methodology and principles before applying the appropriate treatment. (p.11-12,112)

As we discussed above, (p. 15,80,85) it becomes clear that our immune cells use unusual communication signals to try to communicate and transmit certain information that does not necessarily affect our physical health. Unfortunately, we often remain deaf, or simply do not perceive these signals. Let's try to make a kind of translation of "immune language" to understand the message that our immune cells are trying so hard to send us:

- Lymphocytes: are related to the hygiene of our mental and physical body. Negative emotions and thoughts, as well as poor hygiene and dietary mistakes, kill lymphocytes - respectively reduce the body's ability to fight viruses and diseases. Destructive emotions and thoughts are not hygienic food for body and soul. (p.27,33,84,143,149,165)

- Leukocytes: faith leads the human being forward. (p.37,84,114) Faith drives away corrosive emotions such as fear, despair, depression, pessimism.

- Neutrophils: are related to the will and its reasonable application. (p.86)

- Eosinophils: are related to motivation and creativity. (p.15,148)

One must be a "creator" and apply one's ideals of beauty, goodness, purity, harmony and success, above all in one's own organism.

- Basophils: an expression of the application of justice in life. (p.167,182)

The truth is one, but from different points of view it shows "different faces".

- Monocytes: express Hope, Intuition, Awareness (p.36,52,83,155)

- Erythrocytes: red blood cells are carriers of Love. (p.133,173,179)

Do we manage to be good generators and conductors of Love?

- Hemoglobin: Wisdom raises hemoglobin. (p.15,73,105,110,114,137,144,175)

Hemoglobin, like Wisdom, needs light and oxygen in order to properly deliver and transmit the valuable Life Information that they put into erythrocytes, the Heart and our Soul. Difficulties can exhaust, but also mobilize hemoglobin, depending on our Wisdom. (p.63,106,111,135,162)

To thank the Forces that tirelessly support us and work for our health and well-being, but also those who oppose us to experience the Power of our Will.

Regardless of whether we perceive some of these forces as "good" and others as "bad", the Great Hand has united us into One Whole, so that we can not just exist, fighting against each other, in search of the Truth, but above all, to grow together.

We believe that Man is the most conscious being on Earth and at the same time his Consciousness leads him only to two hypothetically possible choices: to fight, or to suffer, in pursuit of "eternally unattainable happiness" ...

It is human consciousness that makes us make choices, differentiate or limit, strive for the good, or lock ourselves in the shackles of the bad. While during this time Nature creates, realizes, rejoices and exists in its most wonderful form!....

Nature has endowed each of us with a wonderful Mind, which to perceive and use the beneficial energies of the Supreme Consciousness, penetrating everything and maintaining the harmonious balance of Life.

Is it possible to simply be and realize the Life, through our most beautiful Self?
